Tanishq Gupta is a 21-year-old law student who enjoys meditation, checking news stories against Snopes and tennis. He is smart and creative, but can also be very standoffish and a bit stubborn. He is an Indian Hindu who defines himself as straight. He is currently at college, studying law. He has a severe phobia of sheep.

Physically, Tanishq is in pretty good shape. He is tall with Brown skin, Black hair and Brown eyes. He grew up in a middle class neighborhood. He was raised by her mother, her father having left when he was young.

She is currently single. Her most recent romance was with a screenplay writer called Wallace Marissa Martinez, who was the same age as her. They broke up because Tanishq's snappiness caused too many rows.

Tanishq's best friend is a law student called Faith Phillips. They get on well most of the time. She also hangs around with Sierra Henderson and Nettie Myers. They enjoy planking together.
